ORGANIZED LABOR DEMONSTRATION PLANNED APRIL 8

Parade Rivaling Labor Day Procession Will March Through Downtown Streets in Evening

MASS MEETING AT LINKER HALL

Speakers Will Discuss Rubber Mills' Lock-out and Other Local Labor Conditions

WANT EVERY UNION IN LINE

Trades and Labor Council Officers Expect Two Thousand Marchers in Parade

A big labor parade, rivaling the annual labor day processions in size, as a preliminary to a mass meeting of all organized labor in the city to be held in Linker hall, is planned by the Trades and Labor council. The demonstration will take place on the evening of April 8. It is expected every union local in La Crosse will march in the parade. The men will gather at the Market square at 7 o'clock and parade the downtown streets and portions of the residence districts close to the "loop" for an hour. The parade will end at Fourth and Main streets, and the marchers will fill Linker hall for a big mass meeting at which stereoscopic slides of sweat shop scenes and other matters of interest to workers will be shown, and speakers will discuss labor topics.

Officers of Council in Charge
The advisory board, consisting of the executive officers of the Trades and Labor council, is in charge of arrangements for the demonstration. Members of the board characterized the affair today as a "get together" for organized and unorganized workmen of the city.

Fully two thousand marchers will be in the procession, carrying banners and transparencies, it was declared today. More than 2,500 marched in the last labor day parade, and it was expected that practically the same personnel will make up the parade of next Thursday. The parade will be headed by a band, for the union musicians have agreed to turn out.

At the hall the musicians will present a number of musical numbers to vary the program of speeches and pictures which is in contemplation.

To Discuss Labor Conditions

At the meeting, present labor conditions in La Crosse will be taken up. The rubber mills lockout will be one of the chief topics, and reference will be made to the walk-out of the score or more of painters whose employers refused their demands for a raise when their agreement expired April 1.

The teamsters' agreement has expired and has not been renewed, the electrical workers and carpenters' contracts run out May 1, and representatives from each of these organizations will also be among the speakers.

Weather

Temperatures yesterday:
High, 40.
Low, 24.
Precipitation, 0.
Forecast for La Crosse and vicinity: Fair and warmer tonight and Sunday.

For Wisconsin: Fair tonight and Sunday with rising temperature. Fresh winds, becoming southerly.
For Minnesota: Fair tonight and Sunday, except probably unsettled north portion by Sunday night. Warmer tonight. Fresh southerly winds.

Weather Conditions

The south Atlantic storm is central this morning off the coast of North Carolina; the high pressure over the country from the upper lakes to Texas; and the northwestern low has developed into a storm of moderate strength and is now central north of Montana.

These pressure movements have caused lower temperature in the central and upper Mississippi valley and higher temperature from Nebraska northward into the Canadian northwest territories. Maximum temperatures ranging from 52 to 56 degrees were recorded from Galveston to Jacksonville, and 70 to 74 degrees in Wyoming, Montana and the adjacent territory.

The pressure conditions indicate fair and warmer weather in this section over Sunday.

HAS EITEL SLIPPED TO SEA IN BLINDING STORM NOW RAGING?

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Has Commander Thierichens dashed for the open sea from Newport News with the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, German commerce raider, cloaked from the hostile ships waiting for her off the harbor in the blizzard which is beating the Atlantic coast?

Unconfirmed rumors here this morning said the Eitel had slipped out last night in the thick weather. The navy department admitted this afternoon that it had succeeded in getting a wireless to Norfolk, but no answer had been received. No reason could be seen for secrecy, if the Prinz Eitel Friedrich had gotten away. Consequently considerable doubt was raised concerning reports that it had sailed Friday night.

Naval men said if it did not take advantage of so good an opportunity, it certainly meant to intern. There was neither telegraph nor telephone communication today between Washington and Newport News or Norfolk, the storm having put all wires out of commission.

The Eitel was understood to have been in complete readiness in latest accounts to put to sea. It was coaled for a voyage to Bremen and all necessary provisions were taken on board Friday.

Naval experts here were of the opinion that it had undergone such emergency repairs as would enable it to make the run to the German port safely.

All accounts agreed that the storm off the Capes Friday night was so fierce and the night so thick that a vessel, unless all its lights were on, could not have been seen 100 miles away.

Weather bureau officials said if the Eitel did make the run from Newport News it had an ideal night for it. There was a stiff northeast storm off the Capes, with an overcast sky and blinding snow flurries.

If the rumor was untrue, it was added that the vessel would never have a better chance than today for its dash for freedom.

German Consul Don't Know
NEW YORK, April 3.—The German consulate here today was disinclined to believe that the Prinz Eitel Friedrich had slipped away from Newport News.

"We haven't heard a word," said an attaché, "and if she left, I think we would know it."

If Thierichens actually is going to try to run he will never enjoy better conditions. The high wind has forced the blockading fleet of British and French warships to withdraw some five miles off the coast to prevent being swept ashore.

Conditions Perfect
The weather outside the Capes, a long distance telephone message says, is thick and getting thicker. If it keeps this way, and the weather bureau believes it will, by midnight conditions will be perfect for blockade running.

Experienced naval officials, however, declared they cannot believe Commander Thierichens will try to get out. They saw that even though he escaped from his present position he would be sure to be overhauled within a short time. Nevertheless, the very fact that the Germans yesterday hustled all their supplies on board was puzzling as, unless they intended attempting to run the gauntlet, they need not have hurried replenishing their storerooms.

Censor Wireless
The government clapped on a tight censorship this afternoon on all wireless messages relating to the Prinz Eitel Friedrich which rumor said was ready to slip out of Norfolk and run the gauntlet of waiting British cruisers. All commercial wireless stations here refused to receive any messages for Norfolk asking for information.

ST. WENCESLAUS NEW CHURCH SEES FIRST SERVICES

Large Crowds Attend Good Friday Meetings in Magnificent New Edifice

WILL BE DEDICATED NEXT SUNDAY

Bishop Schwebach Officiates and Clergy from All Over Diocese Will Assist at Ceremonies

Large attendances marked Good Friday services, the first services in the magnificent new building of St. Wenceslaus Catholic church, Tenth and Winnebago streets, yesterday afternoon and evening.

Rev. Xavier Till, pastor, spoke on the subject "What Christ Did for Us, and What We Should Do for Him" at last night's services. Special music and exercises marked the opening of the church. Devotional services were held in the afternoon.

The church auditorium will not be used again until next Sunday, when Bishop Schwebach will formally dedicate the church. Clergy from all over the La Crosse diocese, and the pastors of every Catholic church in La Crosse will take part. A special choir will bring delegations from Winnebago churches and delegations will be in La Crosse from Prairie du Chien, Eastman and other places. Extensive plans, which have not been completed, are being made for the different services, which will start in the early morning and last throughout the day.

Aside from the church members, all Catholic societies in La Crosse will participate in the services. All societies will meet at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning at St. Mary's school hall, where a line of march will be formed to proceed to the new church.

World Famous Pianist Coming To La Crosse

Mr. Arthur Shattuck—the famous Wisconsin pianist and pupil of Leschetizky—has been secured for the Music Teachers' convention and will play on Tuesday evening, April 20th at the Normal auditorium. Mr. Shattuck has appeared as soloist with the New York Philharmonic orchestra, the Chicago Symphony orchestra, and the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra this season but he is much better known in Europe than in America. Included among his musical triumphs was his notable tour of Iceland.

The people of La Crosse will be most fortunate in hearing this virtuoso, who was born in Wisconsin.

MORGAN'S SHIPPING MERGER ON ROCKS

Receiver Asked for International Mercantile Marine for Default of Interest

IS LARGEST CONCERN OF THE KIND

Formed in 1902 by Morgan, War Has Rendered It Unable to Meet Bond Conditions

NEW YORK, April 3.—The United States government this afternoon by virtue of receivership proceedings, became the custodian of the greatest fleet of trans-Atlantic liners whose affairs are conducted under one management.

United States Judge Hough named P. A. S. Franklin receiver for the International Mercantile Marine company, controlling the White Star, Red Star, American, Atlantic Transport, Dominion and Leyland lines, and thus put all the great liners controlled by the company under the wing of Uncle Sam. Franklin will act as an agent.

The petition for the appointment of a receiver was filed in the United States court today by the New York Trust company. The trust company alleged that the defendant corporation, which does a business estimated at $50,000,000 annually, has defaulted on the payment of $2,300,000 interest on its bonds.

Largest in World

The International Mercantile Marine company is probably the largest shipping corporation of its kind in the world. It controls the White Star, Red Star, American, Atlantic Transport, Dominion and Leyland steamship lines. It was formed in 1902 when the late J. P. Morgan's organizing genius was shaping great mergers of railroad and steamship companies. Morgan was rumored to have attempted at that time to secure control of the Cunard line. The British government, however, balked his

NORTH SIDE SCOUTS LAUNCH 'CLEAN-UP' CAMPAIGN OF WEEK

Troop One Will Divide Into Squads and Give Streets and Alleys Above Causeway Spring Renovation

KNELL FOR TINS AND RUBBISH

Even Private Yards Will Be Attacked and Cleaned with Permission of the Owners

TWENTY-SIX SCOUTS PROMOTED

Members of the Troup Receive Pins Marking Formal Passage from Third to Second Class

Boy scouts of the north side are going to do some spring cleaning. The campaign got away to a flying start at Troop One's supper at the North Presbyterian church last night and active work will begin Monday. A full week of municipal housecleaning has been undertaken by the scouts.

Goodbye to Rubbish

The scouts plan to go at the work systematically. They will divide into groups of three or four and cover every street and alley north of the causeway. Tin cans, rubbish, flying paper and any other unsightly blot upon the landscape will be gathered up and transported to the city dump. Even private yards will be attacked, with the permission of the owners. Every day after school will see the volunteer renovators at work.

Twenty-six Promoted

Twenty-six members of the troop passed formally from third to second class scouts at the banquet. They were decorated with the second-class pins following passage of examinations in scout-craft. Three of the boys, patrol leaders, received silver pins. They were Philip Kent, John Manke and Lynn Frayn.

The others honored were Sigurd Knutson, Milton Davidson, Delbert Wiles, William Craig, Russell and Leonard Jenks, Hiram Johnson, Timothy Reynolds, Harold Fletcher, Guy Olsson, David Bonesar, Russell Harrington, Oscar Melbo, Allen and George Fraser, Silas Bangsberg, Orby Moss, Russell Iverson, Paul Mahoney, Harry Redpath, Lawrence Hampton, Ferris Haddad and Alfred Lokken. Four members of the troop, Ralph and Lloyd Spence, Earrol Olson and Robert Manes completed the second class work before Christmas. Six of the troop have failed to pass the examination.

Install Officers

Installation of officers took place at the meeting. President-elect Ralph Spence delivered a brief talk, delivering a commission to Sergeant-at-Arms Lynn Frayn "to keep better order at the meetings." Other officers installed were Russell Jenks, vice president; Lloyd Spence, secretary and Sigurd Knutson, treasurer.

The treasurer's report last night showed $34.59 in the treasury from the sale of magazines during the last few months. The money will be used by the troop in a camping trip this summer. The four patrols, Owls, Eagles, Bob Whites and Wolves, will make the trip together, probably in June or July.

Present at the meeting were Rev. Finch A. Clarke, J. M. Holley and Joseph Martin, members of the scout executive board of the city; F. W. Leahy, H. G. Hayden and E. S. Heberd, other members of the board, were unable to be present. Mr. Holley talked briefly on the good work being done by the Boy Scouts throughout the world.

DIVER GOES DOWN HUNTING FOR LOST SUBMARINE F-4

"Jack" Agraz of Honolulu Sinks 215 Feet Yesterday and Today Will Use New Diving Tube

HONOLULU, April 3.—Diver "Jack" Agraz, who claimed to have established a new deep sea diving record of 215 feet with nothing but a helmet and a girdle in searching for the ill-fated submarine of the F-4, expected to go down again today in the new diving tube. The 54-inch iron tube is filled with telephone wires and air hose and from its plate glass ports at the tip Agraz hopes to obtain the first sight of the F-4 since she disappeared on March 25. He will be lowered over the spot where the water-logged submarine is believed to entomb the twenty-one bodies of her crew.

COMMISSION FAILS TO BRING WARRING FACTIONS TOGETHER

Notify Rubber Workers' Union Head Attempt to Arrange Negotiations Has Failed

HAVE NOT ENDED THEIR EFFORT

Express Hope They May Yet Accomplish Something and Funk Expects Them Here

FUNK REITERATES POSITION

Says They Have Refused to Deal with Union but Are Willing to Meet Men as Individuals

Failure of attempts, through the state industrial commission, to arrange negotiations between the locked-out rubber workers' union and the La Crosse Rubber Mills company was announced today in a letter to Fred H. Hartwell, attorney for the union, from J. D. Beck, chairman of the commission.

Mr. Hartwell issued a statement today in which he quoted Commissioner Beck's letter as follows: "We have had considerable correspondence with the La Crosse Rubber Mills and are informed that there is absolutely no show of getting them together with any of their employees who are not at work."

Not Through With Effort

That the commission has not entirely ceased its efforts in the matter, however, is apparent from the statement of Mr. Hartwell that the commission's letter expresses the hope that they may be able to do something. Albert P. Funk, manager of the mills, bore out the conclusion that the commission is not altogether through with the matter. He said that he expected the commission would come to La Crosse in a short time, since they had asked him to name a date at which it would be convenient for him to meet their representative. His reply, he said, left the date to the convenience of the commission.

Will Not Meet Union

"We have nothing to discuss with the rubber workers' union or the American Federation of Labor," he said. "But we are willing at any time to meet our employees. To say that we will not meet any of our employees who are out of work is false. We will be glad to deal with them as individuals." That is what we told the commission.

The statement issued by Mr. Hartwell, follows: "Some days ago while in Madison I requested the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin to try to bring about a settlement of the controversy between Mr. Funk, manager of the rubber mills, and its locked out employees. The commission, under the law, absorbs the old board of arbitration, but has no right to enforce arbitration or any sort of settlement."

"I explained to the commission that the employees had asked nothing and were locked out simply because they belonged to the American Federation of Labor. The commission, of course, expressed no opinion as to which side was in the right, but promised for the good of industrial conditions in the city of La Crosse and the state generally to try to bring about a settlement."

Quotes Letter

"A letter from them this morning, written by Mr. J. D. Beck, states in part: 'We have had considerable correspondence with the La Crosse Rubber Mills and are informed that there is absolutely no show of getting them together with any of their employees who are not at work.' The commission expresses the hope, however, that they may be able to do something yet."

"I saw the commission at the request of Mr. J. D. Chubbuck, who is here representing the American Federation of Labor, and who has been patiently exhausting every effort to get a settlement before appealing to members of the federation outside of the city for assistance."

"Now that the court of last resort has exhausted its efforts the matter is entirely out of my hands and from this time on is absolutely under the control of the American Federation of Labor. I am exceedingly sorry for Mr. Funk and his mill as well as for the employees."

Perfect Appeal

The appeal of Thomas Petrasky, William Wittenberg and Andrew Bartoviak, from the judgment of Police Justice Edward Cronon yesterday night's fight near the rubber mills was perfected today with the filing of $50 bond by Attorney Hartwell, representing the men.

FIRE GETS AWAY FROM BOYS

Hose company No. 1 fought a prairie fire near League Baseball park yesterday morning. The fire had been started by boys who could not control it. No damage was done.

BULGARIANS REPORTED TO HAVE ATTACKED A SERBIAN BLOCKHOUSE

Wife is Charged With Kidnapping Unwilling Hubby

A. T. Nunnally of McAlester, Oklahoma, Who Wants Divorce, Said to have Been Seized and Hidden by Wife

CHICAGO, April 3.—A. T. Nunnally, wealthy real estate dealer of McAlester, Okla., was today as completely lost as if the earth had opened and received him. Attorney George Remus, who appeared for the Oklahoma when the latter recently filed his suit for divorce charging cruelty, today sought aid from the courts and the police to locate his wealthy client.

Detectives searched every sanitarium in Chicago and near suburbs. Remus was preparing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, demanding that the courts order Mrs. Nunnally to produce her husband.

Nunnally, Remus declared, was literally kidnapped by his wife and two men as he was leaving a restaurant in the Loop district late last night.

WHO'LL BE MAYOR? BY WHAT MARGIN? WHAT'LL YOU BET?

Political Prophets Guess at Random and Wide Range of Opinion Is Heard About City

DISTRIBUTION OF KELLER VOTE

Upon This Point Hinges Result; Both Candidates Hope to Get Larger Portion of It

With election but three days distant, the municipal campaign is making a record for quietude. So far as politics is concerned, one could hear a pin drop.

The only incident of the day was the publication of a statement by Mayor Sorensen in which he specifically defined his position with relation to city policing in the following language: "I shall continue the policy of the last two years if elected."

Wide Range of Guesses

Predictions as to the outcome of the mayoralty contest run "high, wide and handsome." One thousand for Bentley and eight hundred for Sorensen are the extreme ranges heard. The betting in the loop district gives Bentley the preference, a few small bets on his majorities having been made. On the other hand, one bet of $125.00 is registered, even money, on Sorensen.

Conservative opinion makes the margin but two or three hundred either way. The claim of the Bentley men that the Keller vote will go largely to Bentley is answered by the assertion that Keller and his close friends are for Sorensen. The attitude of organized labor, too, is problematical, although the attitude of Mayor Sorensen has won the friendship of the union rubber mills men and those close to them.

There seems no doubt that the north side will give Sorensen a big vote. On the other hand, the saloon wards of the south side are solidly for Bentley, despite the latter's public statement that he stands for law enforcement and has made no man a promise.

Notwithstanding the inevitable injection of the saloon and kindred questions into the campaign, the contest has been clean and has lacked heat and bitterness. The one problem in this relation is:

What's the Answer?

"What has Sorensen done, or failed to do, to turn the saloon wards which he swept two years ago against him?"

"What do these wards expect from Bentley, which they could not get from Sorensen?"

"Whatever it is, should they have it?"

The Bentley people say that if they expect anything, they will be disappointed, that Mr. Bentley will stand firmly for regulation not more lax than that of today. His public promises have contained that assurance, and to emphasize it he mailed a large number of personal letters last week.

COMMUNICATION WITH SALONIKA CUT OFF TODAY

Dispatch to Rome Causes Much Concern as New Development May Involve Italy

ITALY ON THE SIDE OF THE SERBS

Commonly Believed Monarchy Would Not Hesitate to Fight if Bulgaria Declares War on Serbia

ROME, April 3.—Bulgarian bands attacked a Serbian blockhouse at Volandovo last night, occupied the hills on the left bank of the Vardar and captured two cannons, according to dispatches received here today. Telegraphic communication with Salonika has been interrupted.

The report caused much concern in diplomatic circles here. Italy, it is commonly believed, would not hesitate to enter the war if Bulgaria attacked Serbia. While it was the impression here that Bulgaria would hasten to disavow the action of bands that invaded Serbian territory last night, the fact that communication with Salonika has been interrupted gave the report a more serious aspect.

Volandovo is about 150 miles south of Nish, 65 miles northwest of Salonika and near the Serbian-Bulgarian frontier fixed after the last Balkan war. Though the frontier at this point was definitely located, no protocol formally establishing the line ever has been signed. Consequently, it was pointed out here, if Bulgaria was seeking a pretext for attacking Serbia she might choose this particular point, claiming her troops actually were on Bulgarian soil.

Pola Expects Siege

ROME, April 3.—The Austrian naval base of Pola is being made ready for a long siege according to Trieste dispatches today. The country surrounding Pola is being rapidly and thoroughly fortified. The authorities are reported to be requisitioning all available provisions. Several motion picture houses have been closed and are being used as military storehouses.

PHILIPP LEADERS ABANDON CENTRAL EDUCATION BOARD

After Conference Friday It Is Announced Governor's Plan Aimed at University Is Dropped

MADISON, Wis., April 3.—All hope of the administration forces that the governor's bill to abolish the university and normal school boards of regents and substitute a state board of education can pass the opposition against it in the legislature is gone. After a conference of the leaders held Friday, it was announced that the bill would be withdrawn and another bill introduced. Assemblymen Dickie, Schludner and Van Gordon have been selected as a committee by the house education body to frame the new measure.

It is thought that the new bill will be drawn along the lines suggested by President Van Hise of the university; a board of nine members, five to be appointed by the governor, the state superintendent of schools ex-officio, a member of the central board, a member of the university school regents. As a superstructure, a commission of education who shall act as a financial expert for the entire educational system from the rural schools has been suggested. The board will probably be known as the board of estimates and apportionment.

And in regard to the consolidation bills, if none of them are treated better in committee than the proposed state board of agriculture consolidation, the governor will accomplish little that he has set out to do. The only friend that this bill had in committee on Thursday was Speaker Whittier and his only argument for the measure was that it would be a matter of increased efficiency if the agricultural board was under the supervision of the governor.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

THE LITTLE FRENCH GIRL

BY DOROTHY BLACKMORE

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Raymonde Rousseau was a frail, pretty little French artist, who lived in a tiny studio in a great building. She made her living painting wonderful water color dance orders, dinner cards, holiday greetings and fanciful conceits for social entertainments of all sorts. Also, she added to her income by singing in the choir of a big church.

Until the European war had broken out Raymonde's brother, Jacques, had lived with her, but when his country entered the conflict he was called to join his colors. Raymonde cried for days after her brother sailed for France, but she knew she would have been unwilling to go.

The approach of Easter brought much work to Raymonde, and the lights in her studio burned late every night as she sat over her desk making water colors. She looked very much like a French print herself in the quaint costumes she always designed for her own wear. Her straight, black hair and her ivory skin and scarlet lips made her a conspicuous beauty anywhere. Added to this, her unique taste in dress made her more than attractive.

Perhaps it was her continental manner, perhaps merely her natural diffidence, that made her difficult of approach. But she was admired by every one who came in contact with her, and in the choir where she sang she had many friends even though she did not perhaps realize it.

Choir rehearsals for Easter music made her attendance necessary, and she found herself hurrying from her studio to the church without taking proper time to eat nourishing meals. Raymonde was very conscientious and she did not want to neglect either her painting or her choir work.

It was the week between Palm Sunday and Easter day that found the little French girl nearly exhausted. A boat had arrived bringing her letters and papers from her home in the suburbs of Paris. She picked up her mail and went to church for rehearsal without so much as getting a bite of dinner. She feared being late and conspicuous in entering the choir stalls.

Instead of being late, Raymonde found herself there before any of the others, and she was glad of a few quiet moments in which to read her mail. She looked at her home letters, and then opened up a newspaper from the suburb in which she lived. Her face suddenly became as set as the face of an ivory image—she had seen her brother's name among the list of soldiers who had failed to return with their regiments.

"Jacques! Jacques!" she breathed, just as a merry group of choristers came upon her in the dimly lighted church.

"Why—it's little Miss Rousseau!"

"She's faint!"

One of the girls bent over her and, as they laid her on the broad church seat and administered restoratives, a man, who had taken more than a passing interest in the little French girl and knew something of her life, picked up the paper she had dropped from her hand.

"It's her brother—he's among those reported dead in battle. Poor little girl!" Trenton Knox had always felt a sort of indefinable sympathy for the little soprano. Raymonde opened her eyes. "It—it can't be true—can it?" she asked, searching the faces of those about her, pitifully.

Trenton Knox bent over her. "This paper is two weeks old—it should never have reached you," he said, kindly.

"But why?" she asked in agonized tones and pushing back the straight wisps of hair.

"The reports haven't been confirmed or you would have heard," he said.

The girls helped her to become calm and comfortable again, and though she sat through the rehearsal she was unable to bring a note from her throat, for the lump that seemed to be choking her.

"You'll let me walk home with you tonight, please?" asked Trenton Knox, gently.

Raymonde smiled a wan little smile, and there was none of the usual sparkle in her brown eyes. "It would be so good of you—I—I have been foolish and weak to faint, but I—"

"You have been overdoing it and you look as if you hadn't taken time to rest and eat," the big tenor said, as he guided her from the church.

On the way home they stopped and had a bite of supper in a quiet restaurant near Raymonde's studio, and there, out of sheer weariness, she permitted her veil of reserve to drop before the man who had always been so kind to her.

As they walked around the corner to the studio building she leaned on his arm and he felt as if he could never leave her alone again.

The elevator boy handed her a message. She took it with trembling hands. Gently, but firmly, Trenton took it from her. He saw that it was a trans-Atlantic cable. "When we get upstairs we'll open it," he said.

And it was he, not Raymonde, who tore it open and read the words: "Jacques wounded, but safe at home. Love."

It was unsigned, but Raymonde knew it was from her family, and she knew, too, that they realized that she might have received the paper with the awful mistake printed in it.

"I—I felt as if I could not open it," she said. Trenton as she sank into a studio chair by the small hard coal fire she always kept burning. "You—are so good to me."

"Good? Good?" he said. And then after a minute in which he seemed to be pondering his subject, "Raymonde, won't you let me take care of you? I see tonight how much you need some one, and I—love you. I have loved you for long, but you never let me tell you so till now."

Tears streamed down the little French girl's pale cheeks. The night's gamut of emotions had been too much for her overwrought nerves. "I've felt so—so different from you all," she managed to say. "So—so alone!"

Trenton leaned over her. "Don't say alone again, Raymonde—if—if you love me."

"Oh," she breathed. "I do—I do."

"And you'll marry me after Easter and we'll have the whole blessed choir here in your studio to wish us joy after we come back from the Little Church Around the Corner, won't we, dear?"

And Raymonde nodded even while she sobbed.

Cheer up, girls, leap year is only a few months off; and girls will marry then who never married before.

SPECIAL SERVICES MARK EASTERTIDE

Extraordinary Music and Special Programs to Mark Celebration of Greatest Event in Calendar

WILL PICTURE CHRIST'S LIFE

H. C. Evenson Will Give a Stereopticon Talk; Lily Decorations of Universalists Go to Shut-ins

Celebration of the greatest event in the Christian calendar—the resurrection of Christ from the dead—will take place tomorrow in upward of thirty-five Protestant and Catholic churches of La Crosse.

In many cases elaborate programs have been prepared for the day, especially in the case of Protestant churches. Catholic churches will celebrate the day with early morning masses.

A stereopticon lecture on the life of Christ by Dr. H. Clay Evenson will be the feature of a service Monday evening at the First German Methodist church. Special music will be given at both morning and evening services Sunday.

Lilies for Shut-ins
At St. Paul's Universalist church, Rev. George R. Longbrake will speak on "The Deathless Element in Man." Easter lilies which will afterwards be sent to the aged and the "shut-ins" will decorate the chancel of the church. Special music by the choir will be given at both morning and evening services. Superintendent L. P. Benezet of the city schools will lecture at the Men's Forum meeting at 4 o'clock on "The Cigarette-smoking Boy."

Members of the Lawrence College Glee club will assist the choir of the First Methodist church at the morning service at 11 o'clock. Rev. T. Stanley Oadams, recently returned from Chicago, will preach the Easter sermon. At the services, a copy of the famous picture now on exhibition in Chicago, "The Return from Calvary," by Herbert Schmalz, the famous English artist, will be on exhibition. Union services of the church will be held at the Caledonia Street church on the north side.

Rev. John Hellesvedt will officiate at the Easter services of St. Paul's Norwegian Lutheran church. Several Easter anthems will be sung by the choir.

Christ church will conduct special musical services in conjunction with the usual form of service.

Miss Hickisch to Sing
Elaborate musical services have been prepared for the morning and evening services of the First Congregational church. Miss Anna Hickisch will sing and Homer Cotton will render a violin solo at the morning service. In the evening the anthem, "Olivet to Calvary," will be sung by a full chorus. The number is in two parts.

"Will you help decorate?" asks Rev. E. Vornholt of his German Reformed congregation. "The best decoration of the church is His people," he says. The services will commence at 10 o'clock. The Lord's Supper will be administered.

Holy communion will be celebrated at the morning services of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church.

Plan Early Service

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Earth
And the Nut
Brown Maid.

Even to the Yellow Pumpkins the Girls and Boys Have Fun With.

"I isn't October," said daddy, "but I think I'll tell you tonight about the nut brown maid."

"Do you mean autumn, daddy?" asked Evelyn.

"Yes, dearie," said daddy, "and I think the nut brown maid is in a way the loveliest of the seasons."

"Why do you call her the nut brown maid, daddy?" asked Evelyn.

"Well," answered daddy, "I think that is a pretty name, and, besides that, it is a true one, you see. We call her that because the grass gets all brown."

"Then I don't see why she is so lovely, daddy," put in Jack, "for the grass isn't very pretty when it is brown nor the leaves either."

"Ah," replied daddy, "but that is only a small part of it! For instance, before the leaves get brown and withered they turn all sorts of beautiful colors, and there is no more beautiful sight than that of a forest in October."

"And then the nut brown maid is beautiful in many other ways. She wears a veil of mist and haze that you see over the hills on the lovely October days that is very fine and filmy and pleasant to look through, and she is so healthy and wholesome, and her breath that we call the autumn air is so sweet and winny, and altogether she is a very pleasant little lady."

"And how busy she is! It is her business to harvest all the grain and fruits and other foods that the good Mother Summer has ripened, so that they may be stored up to eat when Jack Frost has come to the earth. And she makes a clean job of it, even to the big yellow pumpkins."

"The nut brown maid is true to her name, too, for she has those sweet chestnuts and walnuts that little boys and girls love to eat so well, and she is always at her best when their parents or their teacher takes them through October woods to see her."

"There's just one thing that the little boys especially do not like about the nut brown maid. Can you tell what that is, Jack?"

"No-o!" said Jack. "What is it, daddy?"

"Well," said daddy, "what does Mother Summer bring to boys—and girls, too—that they like so well?"

"Oh, I know, daddy!" cried Evelyn. "Vacation!"

"Quite true," laughed daddy. "And then the nut brown maid makes them go to school again."

WHAT TO DO FOR ITCHING SKINS

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put up in the form of resinol ointment and resinol soap. This proved so remarkably successful that thousands of other physicians have been prescribing it constantly for 20 years. Resinol stops itching instantly, and almost always heals the eruption quickly and at little cost. Resinol ointment and resinol soap can be bought at any druggist's.

CLEARs BLOTCHY SKIN

Try resinol soap for a week. You will be surprised to see how it clears and freshens your complexion, even in that short time. Used for the shampoo, it removes dandruff and keeps the hair live, rich and lustrous. This is because it contains the soothing, healing resinol medication.

ELECTION PAMPHLET FRIENDS PREVAIL

MADISON, Wis., April 3.—Friends of the election pamphlet principle prevailed against an effort made to act on the Hanson repeal bill and the Skogmo measure retaining the primary pamphlet only, at yesterday afternoon's session of the senate. After much discussion the Hanson bill was put over until two weeks from next Wednesday, and the Skogmo bill was ordered to be bulletined for a hearing which it had not had as required by the rules. Senator Skogmo intimated that the bill was being railroad through without hearing, a charge that Chairman Perry of the committee denied.

A MATTER OF ACCURACY

Mr. Schlach, the district attorney, goes to the mat with us in relation to a recent editorial regarding the confidence which a number of public officials repose in one Timothy McCarthy, gun-toter who threatened to "get" Joe Hirt, as a perfectly harmless character. Perhaps we did Mr. Schlach an injustice, and perhaps our clumsy discussion caused him to take unto himself much that was elsewhere bestowed. In the interest of clarity let it be known that the editorial referred to a particular incident, and was not intended as a personal or general criticism. One of the penalties of public office-holding is that one must expect to be discussed and that the different viewpoint or misinformation often leads to injustice.

To put the matter right it is necessary to repeat the following, the only paragraph in which the district attorney was mentioned:

The district attorney also knew McCarthy, and did not take the case seriously. But not a single official had talked to the witness who heard the threats and saw the gun, or to the man who had received it when McCarthy was disarmed.

This statement is strictly true. Mr. Schlach will hardly assert that he talked to the witnesses, although three of them work or can usually be found in the Linker block, where his office is situated; he will hardly deny that he told the court he knew McCarthy and regarded him as harmless.

He did say to the court that Hirt was not seeking protection through a peace bond, but merely wanted to make a court record for a magazine story. But inquiry from those who were in the court room fails to identify a single person who heard Mr. Schlach say that Hirt told him this; he may have intended to make that plain but he failed to do so. Newspapers must depend upon what is said and done in the open, and we do not hold our reporters responsible for private conversations not held within their hearing. So far as the matter appeared in court, the TRIBUNE'S editorial was strictly within the facts.

No doubt the "stone age" generality of the concluding paragraph was the provocative element in the editorial. As a citizen and a man Otto Schlach is quite up-to-date, and we should hate to have the privilege of differing with him upon this case prove more than a passing incident. However, we cling to the theory that he has the wrong "hunch" regarding the McCarthy affair, and we cannot refrain from indulging in the observation that a personal conviction of the meekness of the gun-toting "lamb" was not complete justification for failure to examine all the evidence before entering a court room where his attitude might exert an influence in shaping the nature and direction of official action.

This comment would be unfair to Otto Schlach did we not add that, irrespective of the merits of this debate, he is pre-eminently fit.

A BIT OF HISTORY AND POLITICS

Arthur Schulze has stepped quite fully into his late father's activities, and his service as alderman thus far has disclosed no reason to doubt the intelligence and honesty which characterized Robert Schulze's representation of the Fifth ward in the city council will be reflected in the stewardship of his son.

Reference to the service of Alderman Schulze's father recalls many stirring incidents fraught with vast importance to this city. The first election of Dr. Wendell A. Anderson as mayor was the result of a dire necessity. The saw mills, La Crosse's one sustaining industry, were moving out; the city itself was a country town, verging on citydom, and out of a job. In the reconstruction period which followed La Crosse completed the transition from town to city and made itself inviting to new industries. The situation was saved by far-seeing intelligence and industry, and in the aldermanic support given Dr. Anderson during those trying and important days that of no man exceeded, in soundness, civic loyalty and industry, the help so ably rendered by the man whom the Fifth ward had wisely chosen to represent it—the late Robert Schulze.

This proves nothing, but suggests much, and every suggestion, points to the advisability of re-electing Arthur Schulze to the office of alderman of the Fifth ward.

CHICAGO EARNEST ABOUT CAMPAIGN

CHICAGO, April 3.—Heavy gunfire in what has been one of the most bitterly fought municipal elections in Chicago's history closes tonight. Monster parades, mass meetings in the largest auditoriums, and street corner meetings, parade of Loop district streets by individual band wagons throughout the day, pink teas and receptions in homes of wealthy fair voters, and gatherings of women less favored by wealth were some of the numbers on today's card. There will be only sporadic campaign work Monday, the day before the elections.

TAGEBLATT HITS OPTIMISM

AMSTERDAM, April 3.—The German Tageblatt today warned the people of Germany not to be too certain that the allied fleet will not force the Dardanelles.

"An unhealthy optimism is not to be approved," said the Tageblatt. "Nothing is impossible. We cannot, therefore, declare that the allies will never enter Constantinople. We affirm, however, that such an achievement is impossible unless they bring up different forces."

Unduly Suspicious Men.

"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "has been forced to get so suspicious that if you tries to be plain honest wif 'em, dey thinks you has managed to hit on some new kind of a trick."

PUBLIC DEBATE

Editor Tribune:

With admiring recognition of the district attorney's superior knowledge as a public debater, it may appear that I am assuming an air of dignity in venturing to disagree with our capable official.

It is quite beyond my comprehension to fully appreciate the exact purpose of Mr. Schlach to court the friendship of the "harmless Mac." I wish to assure Mr. Schlach that the very near future will bring to light some interesting facts about the "Innocent lamb."

One can hardly believe that Mr. Schlach, in his official position, does not know that it is just as bad to misconstrue facts as it is to tell a bare falsehood.

He says he told me to call the police and I said I could get no police protection. That is true. He says further that he told me that it was not true that I could get no police protection. That is NOT true. He mumbled something and then said he would call the police for me. Supposing I give him the benefit of this doubt. Does he still believe that I can get police protection, after taking into consideration the "gallant" protection that I got from Fitzsimmons? I did not ask him not to call the police and stated clearly that the police might tip McCarthy off and that he could carry out his threat the following day. The sheriff can't find McCarthy, who did not make good his promise to leave the city. Possibly the police officer who has been keeping McCarthy's intimate company can tip him off.

Schlach says I told him I was not afraid of McCarthy. I am not. I am not afraid to die as a martyr for my cause. If they will let me carry a weapon, they can let McCarthy go as far as he likes. But to say that I am not afraid is not the same as saying I did not want protection. I wanted protection, but what is a bond? He says I wanted McCarthy to plead guilty for a story. I wanted him to plead guilty so the police could not say that my witnesses were liars. I thought if the court threw a scare into McCarthy and he promised the judge to be good, it would be as good as a bond. McCarthy, carefully noting the district attorney's sympathy for him, would only plead guilty to carrying a concealed weapon, and so I stood for a bond. The district attorney at one time flatly refused to prosecute, but after being informed by the court that he MUST agree to try the case at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. He then left the court house in a rage, and after he had gone, McCarthy pleaded guilty and promised the court to leave the city that evening for Canada. This is what caused me to drop the case. Schlach further says that I informed him that the matter was dropped. It was Judge Brindley who told Schlach this, and right in the center of Main street, just as he left his office. The district attorney further failed to state that McCarthy did plead guilty. The court records will show that he did.

er man, and still he might think the fellow would shoot him, and he may not want to get shot. Any time a district attorney says he knows a fellow who is running around with a loaded 38 caliber gun and threatening to shoot someone, is harmless, it appears to me that he is shouldering quite a burden. If the man should kill someone, what position would the county attorney be in?

PETROGRAD PAPER SAYS AUSTRIA WILL CEDE TERRITORY

Reiterates Statement Franz
Josef Wants Separate Peace and Is Willing to Lose Provinces

LONDON, April 3.—Despite denials from the Russian minister at Rome, the Petrograd newspaper Russky Slovo today reiterated its statement that Austria is seeking a separate peace.

Emperor Franz Josef, according to the Petrograd newspaper, appealed to Germany through the pope to join Austria in peace offers. Emperor William refused, the newspaper said, but Austria is now negotiating for a separate peace with Russia, offering Galicia, Bosnia and Herzegovina.

EASTER MESSAGES CLOG POST OFFICE

More Mail This Year Than at Same Season in Any Year Past Says
Looney

More Easter postal cards, Easter letters and Easter presents are being handled at the La Crosse postoffice this year than at any Easter time in the past, according to C. C. Looney, assistant postmaster.

"There is more mail than on St. Valentine's day, and the situation is almost as bad as at Christmas time," said Looney.

The center of the distributing room at the postoffice is a pyramid of mail sacks, filled with packages. Letters and cards have been sent through the office, from La Crosse to friends elsewhere, and from the outside world to friends in La Crosse.

Letters and packages are being given preference to the postcards, although every unit of mail will be distributed before the postoffice closes tonight.

Love.

Love is like the strong canopy of a tent, which "bears" the pitiless hail and the driving storm, protecting everybody who shelters beneath it. Love is a "hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest." She "bears" the passions of envy and "the slings of outrageous blasts of fierce contempt. She is always rearing her tent above the smitten and stricken children of men, and in her gracious shelter they find security and peace.—J. H. Jowett.

Wonderful Cuban Caves.

The wonderful caves of Bellamar, Cuba, to the east of Havana, attract the attention of the ambitious tourist. They are on a plateau as level as a table top, which presents no signs of the existence of such caves. After descending into the earth, however, a picture unfolds itself. Then come many passages, and at last the great "Gothic temple," 250 feet long and 80 feet wide.

Drink and Live Long.

According to a Roumanian scientist, anyone may live to be a hundred, barring accidents, if he drinks enough water. This scientist claims to have demonstrated that old age is due to a decrease in the amount of water in the system. He contends that old Father Time may be checkmated by systematic water drinking during middle age.

Japanese Cookery.

Japanese cooks seldom use the fingers in the preparation of food. Chopsticks, spoons and many other ingenious little utensils in white wood do the work, which is of the most elaborate nature, many of the dishes requiring twenty-four hours to prepare.

ANOTHER CHANGES PLEA TO GUILTY

Fred Morrison, One of 28
Terre Haute Conspiracy
Defendants, Admits
Guilty Today

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 3.—Fred Morrison, one of the twenty-eight defendants in the Terre Haute election corruption conspiracy trial which has continued in federal court here for the past four weeks, addressed the court when it convened today and changed his plea to guilty.

Ed Holler and Jack Nugent, day and night chiefs of police of Terre Haute, were pointed out again today as the heads of the big conspiracy in that city to steal the November election. A. C. Stanley, attorney for Mayor Donn M. Roberts and twenty-one other of the defendants, declared that his clients had no part in the conspiracy.

AMERICANS TO FIGHT PLAGUE IN SERBIA

NEW YORK, April 3.—To conquer typhoid and cholera in Serbia and possibly "clean up" the entire country, an American sanitary commission under auspices of the Red Cross and Rockefeller Foundation sailed from here yesterday. Surgeon General Gorgas pronounced it to be the "most remarkable" commission which ever tried to aid in foreign plague suppression.

Reports that Serbia is overwhelmed with typhoid and cholera which may sweep Europe caused launching of the sanitary commission. The Rockefeller Foundation and Red Cross each subscribed $200,000 for the campaign. Miss Mabel Boardman of the Red Cross says the entire nation of Serbia will be disinfecting, at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

"Whys" of Moves in European War

(BY J. W. T. MASON)

NEW YORK, April 3.—It seems as if the British government is not prepared to go to legislative extremes in trying to overcome the drink evil. Instead of compulsory measures, a voluntary blue ribbon movement appears to have been accepted as a compromise worth trying.

It is hoped examples of total abstinence announced by the king, Lord Kitchener and by the cabinet in general, will cause the workmen to forego their frequent beer and occasional spirits, and thus provide the army with all the ammunition it can possibly shoot away.

There is a reason to believe the temperamental enthusiasms of the British chancellor of the exchequer have led him to regard the effects of a sudden prohibition campaign among the British workmen with too much optimism. It seems apparent that Mr. Lloyd-George has been vastly impressed by reports from Russia concerning the consequences of the Slav government's prohibition of the sale of intoxicants.

If, in truth, the Russian people have been regenerated by the czar's temperance ukase it is amazing that Great Britain and France should have to finance the Slav empire, at this time, to prevent national bankruptcy. It is equally inexplicable why Russia has failed to keep up her own supply of war stores.

Unquestionably, Petrograd's optimism about Russia's new industrial efficiency is on a par with the frequent statements that the Slav armies are at last about to overwhelm the Germans in a crushing defeat. Mr. Lloyd-George, however, is a man of generous impulses, and is a loyal ally of the czar. Therefore, he cannot regard impartially Petrograd's self-praises. Beside it is up to him to discover some reason for England's failure to supply the army with its needs and intemperance is the most plausible.

It, however, the British government were to regard the matter personally it would probably discover that the British workmen's failure is due, not to too much beer, but to too little beef. Drink or no drink, the British workmen cannot respond physically to the speeding up now demanded of him unless his standard of living is improved.

ADMIRAL QUILTS PROTESTING PLANS

Aid for Operations Fiske Asks to Be Removed from Daniels' Policy

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske's demand to be relieved immediately from duty as aid for operations overshadowed everything else in naval circles today. It was admittedly the first protest against Secretary Daniels' methods, although Fiske gave no reason for his action. It has been an open secret for months, however, that the older navy officers were not in sympathy with the secretary. It was felt that he in turn, was not in sympathy with a liberal naval policy and his action in slashing the general board's recommendations right and left was felt by most of the high naval officials to be a reflection upon that body's ability.

Congress recently created the position of chief of naval operations, which corresponds to that of army chief of staff. This new position rendered the post now held by Admiral Fiske obsolete and it has been known that, because of his testimony before the house naval committee which was in effect a criticism of the Daniels administration, Fiske was not to be considered for the new post.

It was understood today that Fiske, who still has another year to serve before retirement for age, probably will be given command of one of the navy yards. The selection of a chief of naval operations, Secretary Daniels said today, will be deferred until he can consult with Admiral Fletcher and other high officers.

SPOTLIGHTS

JOHN DREW.

The coming of John Drew is always an event of extreme interest and importance to local playgoers, and the announcement of the engagement of this most distinguished of American players at the La Crosse theater, for one performance only, Friday evening, April 9, is a very welcome one. Double interest attaches to Mr. Drew's present appearance since he is to be seen here in a revival of the delightful comedy in which he achieved one of the most notable of his successes some years ago. The play might be said to be wholly new to the present generation of theatergoers and the proof that it has lost none of its delightful charm or humor is found in the praise accorded the present revival. Charles Frohman has brought about Mr. Drew's reappearance in the role of Sir Jasper Thorndyke after immeasurable requests extending backward through a period of three or four years.

"LA CROSSE PLAYERS"

Tomorrow afternoon will see the first performance of "The La Crosse Players" at the La Crosse theater. Headed by Miss Eleanor Foster and Mr. Clifford Hastings, this company is said to be one of the best companies that has ever appeared in La Crosse. The opening play, "The Circus Girl," is the story of a girl whose life had been spent around the circus, a girl who had never, to use her own words, "lived in a room," but always in "a tent or a car." She is a quaint little girl, and you will not blame Robert for falling in love with her.

APPLICATION FOR RETAIL LIQUOR LICENSE.

To the Common Council of the City of La Crosse: The undersigned, citizens of the United States, Emil Leaf and Peter Gunnarsson, hereby make application for license to sell strong, spirituous, malt, ardent or intoxicating liquor in quantities of less than one gallon to be drunk on the premises, N. 25 feet of S. 50 feet E. of railway land of lot 8, block 1, original plat of town of La Crosse, No. 115 North Front street, from the 31st day of April, 1915, to the first day of July, 1915. Our bondsmen are New England Casualty Co. of Boston, Mass. Dated March 31, 1915.—Emil Leaf, Peter Gunnarsson.

Hindrance to Progress.

Nothing so hinders us in what we are doing as to be long after something else; in so doing, we lose off tilling our own field, to drive the plow through our neighbor's land, where we must not look to reap a harvest; and this is mere waste of time. If our thoughts and hopes are elsewhere, it is impossible for us to set our faces steadily towards the work required of us.—St. Francis de Sales.

Lucky Stumble.

A man in California suddenly lost his power of speech several weeks ago. The doctors said that a vocal nerve was paralyzed. Now he has regained his speech in an equally sudden way. While carrying a bucket he stumbled and exclaimed, "Ouch," with much force. Immediately his full power of speech was restored.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble. Charles A. Beyschlag, Druggist, 503 Main St.

V. S. Coster, whose wife was recently granted a divorce by Judge E. C. Higbee in circuit court, was today remanded to jail in default of the payment of alimony to his wife, ordered when the divorce was granted. Coster said he would pay up.

Coster was arraigned for contempt of court. He admitted to the judge that he owned property on the north side, now occupied by a saloon and dwelling. He said he had forgotten the payments ordered by the court.

Mrs. Katherine Voskuil and Mrs. Nellie Backus were granted divorces this morning from their husbands on grounds of desertion and non-support.

"My husband leaves me whenever he feels like it, and my children have to support me," said Mrs. Voskuil. Mrs. Voskuil was granted a divorce with the clause that she could not marry for one year.

"I have not heard from Clyde Backus for over five years," Mrs. Backus told Judge Higbee, "and it has been eleven years since he has been home."

BATTLES FOR MAN WHO KILLED SON

Mother Is Spurned by Her Children but She Will Begin New Legal Fight for Convicted Lover

MAN SENTENCED TO 14 YEARS

Climaxes Sensational Trial in Which Daughters and Mother Take Opposing Stands

CHICAGO, April 3.—Spurned by her children, beaten in her fight for the liberty of the man who stabbed her son to death, and broken by three days' grilling from caustic tongues, Chicago's "unnatural mother," Mrs. Eleanor Black, intimated today she would begin a new legal battle for her lover's liberty.

A jury in criminal court, near midnight last night, found William Shipman guilty of stabbing 18-year-old Albert Black to death, following a quarrel in the Black home. The penalty was fixed at 14 years in the penitentiary.

The verdict came as a climax to one of Chicago's most sensational trials. Throughout the trial, Mrs. Black, mother of the murdered boy, has fought bitterly for her son's slayer. Her daughters testified for the state. "What manner of woman is this," said Attorney Witte for the prosecution as he closed a vitriolic speech to the jury, "who fights for the liberty of the man who stabbed her son? Even the beast of the jungle will battle for its young and avenge their death, but here we have a woman who takes the part of her paramour against her boy."

SOLDIER KILLED IN COLON RIOT

Corporal Langdon Killed in Mix-up with Panama Police; Police Are Blamed

COLON, April 3.—Corporal Langdon of the coast artillery, was shot and killed and three other American soldiers were injured, one seriously, in a riot here yesterday.

Fix Responsibility
WASHINGTON, April 3.—Responsibility for the killing of an American soldier and the wounding of several others in a riot Friday in Colon was placed on the Panama police in a report to the war department today from General Clarence Edwards, commander of the zone.

As a result, the Washington government was again considering taking over the policing of all Panama directly adjoining United States territory, including Colon and Panama City.

In his report General Edwards said: "The trouble was caused by the excited police clubbing soldiers. Other soldiers protested and the police began to shoot. The coast artillery provost guard attempted to stop the fights and Corporal Langdon was shot by a police lieutenant."

INQUEST TO FIX RESPONSIBILITY FURNELSON DEATH

Coroner's Jury Will Report on Fatal Crossing Accident Monday Afternoon

A coroner's jury will fix the blame for the death of Albert H. Nelson, traveling peddler for the Watkins Medicine company of Winona, Monday afternoon, when an inquest, started this morning, will be finished by Coroner William L. Tetley at the office of District Attorney Otto M. Schlachbach in the Linker building.

Nelson was killed Thursday evening at an Onalaska crossing of the Northwestern railroad by a passenger train. District Attorney Schlachbach and Coroner Tetley went over the scene of the accident yesterday. Eyewitnesses and railroad men have been interviewed to discover how fast the train was running when Nelson was killed.

Passenger trains are allowed by law to travel no faster than six miles an hour through cities, and it is reported that the train which struck Nelson was exceeding this rate.

Coroner Tetley would not divulge the result of yesterday's visit to Onalaska.

Nelson's body was today taken to Menomonie, where his relatives live. Funeral services and burial will take place before the inquest.

PARIS, April 3.—A secret inquiry into the charges against Raymond Swoboda, suspected of starting the fire aboard the French liner La Touraine, was resumed at Havre today, according to dispatches received here, and it was understood that Swoboda himself was being severely sweated.

Flora Trieschloer, a Swiss singer, telegraphed here from Geneva that she may have been the "Swiss actress" mentioned by the police as a close friend of Swoboda. She wired that Swoboda was from New York, that she knew him well and that if necessary she would come to Paris with evidence to satisfy the authorities that he was not a German spy.

NEW YORK, April 3.—After brief hesitation at the opening, prices resumed their advance on the Stock exchange today and before the two hour market was over, a number of noteworthy gains had been scored. The rise was again somewhat irregularly distributed, but it was noticeable that the standard investment stocks had more part in it than during recent days.

It was the erratic "specialties" like Bethlehem Steel and Rock Island, however, which once more displayed the violent activity of the market. Orders from the "outside public" were again much in evidence.

The important incident in the general market of the day was the sharp advance in open market discounts at London, the rate rising to 2 1/2 to 3 per cent as against 2 1/2 on Thursday and 2 1/4 recently as Monday. Today's rate is the highest since last November.

The receivership of the International Mercantile Marine was entirely expected.

BATTLE IN THE PASSES NEARING DECISIVE POINT

Enthusiastic Reports to Petrograd Tell of Slav Advances but Hardest Part Yet to Come

RUSSIANS MUST WIN USZOK PASS

Austrians Are Strongly Entrenched Between the Present Battle Line and Gate to Hungary

PETROGRAD, April 3.—The great battle for the possession of the Carpathian passes is approaching the decisive stages. Along a twenty mile line reaching from Vola Michova eastward to the river Sen, great armies are locked in death struggles on the icy hills. The invasion of Hungary with a possible early ending of the European war may hinge on the result.

Must Win Uszok Pass
Enthusiastic reports of Russian successes have reached here from correspondents at the front. The war office, while optimistic, does not share the belief that the battle has been won. Important victories have been scored by the Slavs but the gigantic clash for the Uszok pass is yet to begin.

Nearly half a million Austro-Germans, it is now estimated, are now encamped along the Carpathian battle front, either north of the mountains, at the passes themselves, or as defending the railway at Meso Labore, south of the Lupkow gap. Behind them are endless chains of trenches and fortified positions that must be forced before the great body of Russian troops pass down the heights and into Hungary.

Progress Under Difficulties
From Vola Michova to Smolnik, the Russian left wing is making slow but steady progress. Perhaps no army in the history of the world ever advanced under more tremendous difficulties. A recent thaw melted the snow and covered the mountains with tiny rivulets. Then a sudden dash of zero weather converted the paths and slides into glaring sheets of ice. To these natural obstacles, the Austrians, under German direction, added almost impregnable defenses high on the ridges.

At no point are the Slavs nearer than twenty miles to the Uszok pass. Some of the most desperate fighting of the entire war must occur before a Russian army can pass through the gap along the railway leading to Ungvar. It will require at least a month of steady advance, military experts estimated, today, before the main Russian army can pass down the southern slopes of the Carpathians into Hungary. But the battle now developing will have tremendous influence on the final result.

Keep for Busy Elsewhere
In Poland and north of Bukowina, constant Russian attacks are driving in the Austro-Germans. In both regions the evident intention of the general staff is to keep the enemy too busy to permit the sending of reinforcements to the Carpathians.

Furstman Says the Myrick Park Open-air Colony Will Be Started About June 15

La Crosse's open-air baby colony, plans for which were formulated last fall by Dr. J. M. Furstman, city health commissioner, will be in full operation by the end of June at the latest, according to present plans of the health department. It is planned to set up the child-welfare station on or about June 15. It will be in operation until September.

Under the general supervision of Miss Marie Peterson, the colony will be conducted by volunteer help from the Little Mothers' class maintained by the health department. Women who work out or who are taken up with outside work at their homes will be invited to leave their babies in the care of the colony while they go about their duties.

Definite plans for the housing of the station have not yet been completed. Dr. J. M. Furstman today said, however, that it is probable that a portable cottage will be erected, instead of using tents, as at first suggested.

Why are corn and potatoes like the idols of old? Because the corn have ears and they hear not, and the potatoes have eyes and they see not.

To the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre. And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it. His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow: And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men. And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay. And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.—Matthew 28:1-7.

The Favorite Flower.

One reason why violets are the favorite flowers of the world is that they belong to sweet woods and dooryard gardens. We can plant, tend and pick them ourselves, make borders for our walks, fringe a brook or star a corner of the lawn with their flecks of deep rich blue. Year after year they will come to remind us of our first planting.—The Craftsman.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, April 3.—A stagnant market and several brands of peace talk, unconfirmed but nevertheless persistent, caused lower wheat prices when the market opened today. There followed a series of fluctuations until toward the close when not large but persistent cash buying caused the market to settle at figures that were somewhat above opening prices.

Corn acted with wheat, down at the opening and rather nervous for an hour afterward, prices later settled and finally closed up over the opening.

Oats continued to follow the lead of other grains, opening lower and closing at prices that were above the opening.

Provisions were not very active. Prices were slightly higher at the opening and closed slightly lower to slightly higher than the opening.

War Office News of Fighting

BERLIN

BERLIN, via Wireless to Sayville, April 3.—At every point along the France-Flanders battle front in the last twenty-four hours the attempts of the allies to make gains have failed utterly, according to the official statement from the war office this afternoon.

The Belgians made an unsuccessful attempt to win back the hamlet of Klosterhoek, near Dixmude, which was occupied by the Germans four days ago. In Sepetre woods, north-east of St. Mihiel, the French made desperate efforts to regain ground lost in the fighting earlier in the week, but were thrown back.

The French are renewing their attacks in Alsace.

There have been no important developments in Poland.

Grows on Telegraph Wires.

There is a form of plant which grows on telegraph wires. It has no roots, but derives its nourishment from the air, and prefers electric wires to the nourishing earth. The seed of the plant—which when fully grown resembles an orchid—is carried to the wires by birds and insects.

To Remove Match Marks.

Careless guests often drive a hostess to distraction by striking matches on the walls. If the walls are painted these marks can be removed. Rub on them first a slice of lemon, then whitening, and finally wash with soap and water. This will be found to remove all trace of the match marks from paint.

Cause of Bad Manners.

Pride, ill nature, and want of sense are the three great sources of ill manners; without one of these defects no man will behave himself ill for want of experience of what in the language of fools is called knowing the world.—Dean Swift.

PAPER SUGGESTS ROPE FOR GERMAN NAVAL MINISTER

English Press Stirred Up by Latest Exploits of the German Submarines

LONDON, April 3.—"Hang von Tirpitz and other responsible German officers at the close of the war," was the suggestion of the London Daily Chronicle today in a fresh outburst of indignation at the torpedoing of three English fishing vessels, exempted from attack by the Hague convention of 1907. The other London newspapers, though more conservative in their suggestions, were equally bitter.

Large Day of Reckoning

"We cannot at present prevent the Germans from committing any atrocity that seems good to them," said the Chronicle, "but we must insist upon a day of reckoning. The German government says the submarine crews now in our hands acted upon orders. It will be interesting to know who was responsible for those orders."

"Was the U-28, for instance, under orders to fire on boats that were being launched with women in them from the Aquila? Was it under orders to torpedo the Falaba under conditions insuring a holocaust of noncombatant lives? Was it under orders to refrain from helping drowning people and to join at their struggles? Questions like these will need answering, but that high responsibility for the general policy rests somewhere at Berlin there can be no doubt."

"Hang Grand Admiral!"

"At the end of the war, the allies will have two alternatives: They can allow the practice of submarine merchantment to become a usage recognized by the international law, or they can after trial, hang the German officers responsible for initiating it, including Grand Admiral von Tirpitz."

The crew of the Dutch steamer Schieland, blown up off the mouth of the Humber yesterday, said today they believed a mine caused the destruction of their vessel. A terrific explosion damaged the steamer amidst, killed a fireman and injured three others of the Schieland's crew. The crew then took to the boats.

The 1,143 ton British steamer Lockwood was torpedoed off Start Point in the English channel last night, according to press dispatches today. Her crew reported that the Lockwood was attacked without warning and went down within a few minutes. Every member of the crew is reported to have been rescued.

Cruisers and Battleships.

There is a difference between cruisers and battleships. The battleship is, as compared with the cruiser, larger, more powerfully armored, and carries much heavier guns. Of course, the cruiser, especially the armored cruiser, is, in a sense, a battleship, but not in the fullest sense of the word.

Convalescent.

Butler (to Rev. Dr. Priestley)—No, sir, Mr. Baker cannot see you today. He's very sorry indeed, sir, but he's too well now to see any of the clergy. —Life.

A man with a lot of money is always a great help—to himself.

MILITARY COSTUME DESIGNED FOR MAIDS BY LADY CHURCHILL

One of Lady Churchill's maids in new costume.

The military spirit has had a decided effect on the fashions of the day. Lady Randolph Churchill of England, mother of the first lord of the admiralty, and the daughter of Leonard Jerome of New York, has introduced a new fashion by putting her maids, who have taken the place of the men who have gone to the front, into a uniform corresponding to those worn in the army. The coat is designed by Lady Randolph herself and is very natty.

TWESME OUT FOR HEAD OF VILLAGE OF GALESVILLE

Caucus at Galesville Is Record Breaker in Point of Attendance and Enthusiasm

GALESVILLE, Wis., April 3.—(Special.)—Excitement in the local election is intense. The caucus on Monday evening was a record breaker in point of attendance. The caucus nominees are as follows:

President of the village board, A. T. Twesme, defeating the present incumbent, W. S. Wadleigh; member of the board, Oscar Olson, defeating Iver Herried; W. J. Maxwell and R. H. Ashley renominated; clerk, O. D. Witherbee; treasurer, Herman Konig; assessor, H. S. Hanson; police justice, T. T. MacAdam; justices of the peace, Edward Gardner, Sr., and J. H. Dale; constable, E. W. Parker; supervisor, Eugene F. Clark.

The license question is the paramount issue. Strange to say the defeated faction avow that it is going to vote for no license.

Hear Address

Edgar Evers, district attorney of Richland Center, Wis., will speak in the village opera house next Sunday evening on "The Benefits of No License in Richland Center."

Churches Celebrate Easter

The various churches will celebrate Easter this year next Sunday. The Presbyterian church announces a good program for Sunday morning.

Miss Tibbitts Weds

The marriage of May Tibbitts and Ubbe Anderson occurred Wednesday, March 31 at the bride's home at North Bend, Wis.

Personals

Lester Dannner, a former resident of this place, was seriously injured about the head last Friday near his home at Arcadia, Wis.

Professor Clyde Reed, who has been in charge of the short course in agriculture in the high school, has finished his term of service and returned to his home at River Falls, Wis.

The Case of War-Talk Jobkins

Jim Jobkins was a salesman wondrous clever. Made welcome in a hundred country stores; His firm esteemed him quite the brightest ever; Where others brought one dollar Jim brought scores. But suddenly Jobkins' orders faded, Expenses, though, abated not a whit; The firm thought faithful Jim was getting jaded. 'Twas hinted that he'd better rest a bit.

But spoke the senior manager, explaining; "I'll tell you why Jim is falling down. His customers with war talk he is paining. He's spouting fight in every country town. Instead of goods a war map's on the table. He tells of Krupp's and Zeppelins and such; In analyzing war moves Jim is able; But war talk doesn't help this firm o'er much."

So Jim received a telegram next morning. It read: "Leave war to those who have to fight." And now no stores with war maps Jim's adorning. He took the hint and orders came all right. If all the Jims upon commercial highways Talked not a word of war 'twixt train and train 'Twould help prosperity along the byways. Let War-talk Jobkins' case be not in vain. —Arthur Chapman in The Philadelphia Record.

Getting More Money.

"How will the nations keep up the war when funds run low?" "Oh, every now and then they can declare an armistice for the benefit of American tourists."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 3.—Manager Branch Rickey's Brown lineup was in the hat, undergoing a severe jiggling this morning, as this afternoon's third game of the city series with the Cardinals approached. A word array is expected when the names are spread out. Few players are certain of work this afternoon.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Bill Doak probably will be Manager Huggins' choice against the Browns in this afternoon's continuation of the city series. The series stands even, each team having won one game. Huggins announced he would be back at second himself next week, despite retirement rumors.

HAVANA.—Rain having mired the field, the Sloop-Peds spent yesterday watching Willard and Johnson in training. Manager Fielder Jones ventured a prediction that Willard would clinch himself on a Johnson upper cut on the six-thousandth foot of the film.

MARSHALL, Texas.—Joe Tinker led his school of Whales into this thriving village today to do battle with Stovall's Kaysee Peds. Tomorrow they start northward, stopping off at Texarkana, Fayetteville, Ark., and Danville, Ill., before reaching Chicago.

ABILENE, Texas.—Manager Rowland of the White Sox loaned the local team three of his players and then walloped it, 13 to 2. Sammy Cohen Bohen, the Irish recruit, was released to Lincoln, in the Western league. Ray Schalk worked yesterday, the first in three weeks.

It's a bad thing to be a "good thing."

M'VEY OUT WITH VENGEANCE

Tar Baby Will Do His Best to Even Up Several Old Scores with Lil' Artha'

BY BARRY FARIS
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)
 HAVANA, April 3.—With both fighters claiming perfection of condition for Monday's championship of the world set-to, keenest interest was manifested by fight fans early today in the showing Jack Johnson will make against Sam McVey, in the six round exhibition bout this afternoon. Curley's pleadings of possible injury to Johnson requiring postponement of the championship battle have been unavailing. The big black insists he'll get a good workout in the McVey mill and won't get hurt.

One thing is certain—the Johnson-McVey workout won't be a love feast. McVey is one of the trio of tar babies including Langford and Johnson, the McVey and Langford portions of which have always believed they were just as good as Johnson and who have mourned the fact that circumstances gave Johnson the chance to grab the title.

McVey is reported to have made peace with Johnson, but nevertheless those who know the crafty black man insist he'll do his best this afternoon to square things.

Final boxing workouts in both camps today were the best so far staged. Willard made an exceptionally brilliant showing, apparently cutting loose. His footwork was beyond the expectation of even his most enthusiastic backers. The cowboy's physical condition is marvelous. Of the lithe muscled type he is now at the top notch of physical efficiency.

Referee Welsh Arrives
 Referee Welsh arrived today. The city is packed and jammed with fight fans. Every available sort of steamer has been pressed into service between Havana and Key West to bring fans over and still it was reported that there are 5,000 people in the Florida town unable to obtain passage.

Flannigan, Johnson's chief second, declared today the big smudge would force the fighting.

"He'll tear into Willard from the top of the bell," Flannigan asserted. "Johnson and all of us in his camp expect to see Willard knocked out within twelve rounds. Jack knows Willard's game is to try to outwear him—but there'll be no chance at stalling. Johnson will press things from the start."

"So much better," was the comment of Tom Jones, Willard's manager, on this statement. "Willard is going to win—we're sure of that."

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Home runs by Good, Bresnahan and McLarry gave the Cubs the first game of the series with the Barons here, 7 to 4.

CHICAGO TEAMS ARE FAVORITES IN MEET

Chicago A. U. and Illinois A. C. Looked to to Capture Central A. A. U. Honors

CHICAGO, April 3.—Chicago teams were early favorites in the Central A. A. U. indoor track and field championships to be held tonight in Patten gymnasium at Northwestern university, despite formidable looking entry lists from the strongest in the west.

The Chicago A. U. and Illinois A. C. both with heavy entries, were expected to battle it out for honors, as they have for years, with an outside chance of being beaten out. Chicago university Notre Dame, Wisconsin, Michigan and Northwestern have strong teams, particularly the Wolverines.

CHICAGOANS WARY ON FIGHT WAGERS

Lack of Condition Stories Regarding Johnson and Inherent Disregard of Willard Causes

BY JAMES O'DEA
 (Written for the United Press.)

CHICAGO, April 3.—Chicago is "laying off" the Johnson-Willard fight, so far as betting its money on the outcome is concerned. A jaunt around sporting hang-outs today failed to reveal a single open book, at any odds. There are a few private wagers, but in the main, Chicago sportsmen is sitting in its pocketbook with its fingers crossed—and watching the papers.

Several reasons were advanced, chief among which were the stories that the dingie is in poor condition. Willard, among sporting men here, always has been considered more or less a dub. Therefore, Chicago hates to place its money against its judgment.
